ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA,

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1913.

PRICE, 2 CENTS

DAUGHTERS HAVE GRAND RECEPTION

Jefferson Hotel in Richmond Crowded With The Delegates.

CLOSES SECOND DAY.

Officers to be Elected Friday—Organization Shows Great Increase in Numbers.

Richmond, Oct. 2.—The greatest enthusiasm pervaded the whole atmosphere of the big reception given last evening by Richmond Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, to the convention of the Virginia Division, in session here this week. A brilliant throng of handsomely gowned women filled the corridors and drawing rooms of the Jefferson Hotel, where the reception was held, and about 1,000 guests passed down the receiving line from 9 to 12 o'clock. Everywhere masses of Richmond roses were used, and palms and Confederate flags decorated the high mantels. The strident orchestra played "Dixie" and a delightful program of old Southern airs, and the scene was altogether a very inspiring one.

Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, president of Richmond Chapter, headed the receiving line, which included the officers of the chapter, presidents of the various chapters represented at the convention, and the president of the Virginia Division. Some of those noted were Miss Annie Randolph Heth, daughter of General Heth, and president of the Southern Relief Society, in Washington, who is the guest of Mrs. J. Taylor Ellyson; Miss Jessie Smith, of Fayetteville, N. C., daughter of the late Colonel Orin Randolph Smith, who designed the Stars and Bars; Mrs. James Dillard, the guest of Mr. Edward C. Mayo, and Mrs. George de B. Keim, the guest of Mrs. Charles E. Bolling, both of whom are members of the General Dabney Maury Chapter in Philadelphia; Mrs. Fielding Lewis Taylor, of Rosewell, Gloucester county, president of the Sally Tompkins Chapter; Mrs. Phillip Yentman, of Norfolk; Mrs. Crump, and Mrs. Elizabeth Neeley, of Portsmouth, who are guests of Mrs. Randolph Watkins; Mr. Frank Anthony Wake, of Norfolk; Mrs. Eliza Henderson, who is the guest of Mrs. Norman V. Randolph; Mrs. Mollie Chalmers, of Smithfield; Mrs. Thomas L. Rosser, of "Ragby Hall" Albemarle county, widow of General Rosser, Mrs. Reid, of Alexandria; Mrs. Dunn, and many others.

Supper was served in the palm garden, and there was one long table arranged across the length of the room decorated with tall vases of red and white roses. Scarlet flowers were scattered over the cloth, and a color scheme of red and white was carried out in the ices and bonbons. The reception committee, of which Mrs. C. E. Bolling was chairman, included Mrs. Edgar Taylor, Mrs. Randolph Watkins, Mrs. Royall Turpin, Miss Kathleen Anderson, Miss Julia Gee, Miss Weddill, Miss Nora Randolph, who were assisted by Edgar D. Taylor, George W. Bagby, Jr., and Edloe Donnan. The girls acting as ushers for the affair wore white gowns, with crimson sashes, and included Misses Sadie Kern, Katherine Chapman, Lee Courtney, Mary Chapman, Louise Richardson, Julia Grant Moore, May Moore, Elizabeth Brown, Rebe Bradley, Virginia Binford, Olive Gibson, Martha Purcell and Mrs. Eppes.

The reception came to a close about midnight, when the orchestra played the national air of the Confederacy. It was one of the handsomest functions of its kind given here in many years, and most of the women in attendance belonged to families whose names have made history and founded States.

The reception tendered the visiting delegates and alternates by the Lee Chapter, yesterday afternoon at the Home for Needy Confederate Women, marked another interesting and handsome function given for the Daughters. The wide old rooms of the home were prettily arranged with palms and bay trees and big bowls of red and white dahlias, and Mrs. Thomas H. Bigger and Mrs. Granberry Vandervice presided at the tea table.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Andrew Jackson Montague, president; Mrs. Arthur P. Wilmer, first vice-president; Mrs. Miles Cary, second vice-president; Mrs. B. V. Sytle, third vice-president; Mrs. St. George Bryan, fourth vice-president; Mrs. Charles A. Rose, registrar; Mrs. Charles H. Ryland, recording secretary; Mrs. P. B. Taylor, corresponding secretary; Miss Mary Chalmers, treasurer; Mrs. Benson, historian; also the officers of the home, Miss Lee, Mrs. Montague, Mrs. Simon Sytle, Mrs. W. C. Harris, Miss Irene Fitzgerald, Mrs. Emmanuel Raab, Mrs. C. H. Clowes, Mrs. Pauline Thalheimer.

The young girls assisting in serving were Misses Mary and Addie Irving, Mary Irvin Watkins, Elizabeth Fairbanks, Mattie Spencer, Virginia Courtney, Gladys Adkins, Elise Jones, Ruth Davis, Shield Jones.

Mrs. C. T. Norman had charge of the music, and a charming program was rendered by Mrs. Norris, Mrs. Robert Smith, A. W. Martenstein, with Mrs. Martenstein, as accompanist. An orchestra played for the reception, to which several hundred guests came during the afternoon.

Though quaking in his boots at his temerity in facing an audience composed entirely of women, James K. Hackett, the actor, went before the VVirginia Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, in the Jefferson Auditorium, yesterday afternoon, and invited the convention to a special performance of "The Bishop's Candlestick" at the Academy of Music at 11:10 o'clock tonight. The invitation was accepted uproariously and without the formality of a motion. The distinguished actor bowed his acknowledgements, and almost blushed.

SEVERE STORM IN FRANCE.

Fourteen Persons Killed and Thirty Hurt in Cerebere.

Serbere, France, Oct. 2.—A terrific thunderstorm which raged for 12 hours has spread death and ruin throughout this city, twenty persons are known to have been killed and thirty injured, but there are many missing.

A stream which passes through this city soon was over its banks and flooded the streets.

In a hardware establishment where large quantities of gasoline, petroleum, alcohol and other inflammables and a cask of calcium carbide were stored, the water dissolved the chemical and enormous quantities of gas were formed. A terrific explosion occurred, which completely wrecked two buildings and enveloped two others in flames. Three persons who were passing at the time were killed outright. Five families were buried in the ruins.

Nearly every house in Cerebere is flooded and most of the provisions have been spoiled.

The floods also carried away the greater part of Paulhes dynamite factory and caused tremendous damage throughout the department. The railroad has been washed out several places and a passenger train is imprisoned in the tunnel at Banyuls-sur-Mer.

In answer to an urgent appeal from the mayor the prefect of Perpignan dispatched several tons of bread to meet the needs of the inhabitants. A company of infantry was rushed from Collioure to assist in the rescue work and search the ruins.

JEWISH NEW YEAR.

The Jewish Synagogue on north Washington street was filled last night by Hebrew residents and others when services in connection with the Jewish New Year were held. They were held by Rabbi Cohen, a native of Baltimore, and a student at the Hebrew college in Cincinnati.

The rabbi conducted the services in an impressive manner and he was listened to with close attention.

The members of the congregation reassemble this morning. The stores of Israelish merchants were closed today. They will be reopened after sunset Friday.

PANAMA CANAL NOT DAMAGED

Slide at Gatun is Not Considered of Serious Nature.

CANAL IN GOOD SHAPE

Intricate Machinery Not Injured—
First Rocking in Zone in One Hundred and Fifty Years.

Panama City, Oct. 2.—"That the damage to the Gatun locks is nominal," was the report today of Lieut. Col. Siebert on the result of the earthquake. "The machinery is unharmed and a superficial slide will be removed within twelve hours."

"Practically no damage was done to the canal," declared Colonel Goethals' secretary.

Panama, Oct. 2.—Careful inspection was being made today of every inch of the Panama Canal and the Gatun locks to ascertain if any damage was done by the earthquakes that shook the Isthmus shortly before midnight. Superficial examination of the canal after the shocks failed to show any damage to the work.

The tremors came twenty minutes apart and people rushed from their beds in panic. The first shock was the most violent. The quake began with a tremendous upheaval and gradually increased, lasting fully twenty seconds. Clocks stopped, furniture moved about, and windows were broken.

The last earthquake of any consequence in the Isthmus occurred 150 years ago.

YESTERDAY'S STORM.

Cloudburst in New York — Deaths From Lightning.

New York, Oct. 2.—A cloudburst struck New York yesterday. It tied up the transportation system of the city, caused immense damage, and left death in its wake when it passed away after battering all sections for 11 hours and 22 minutes.

Two persons were killed and several injured. Lightning played above the city and struck an elevated train and several buildings, setting fires which the deluge extinguished. Incoming trains from all directions were delayed, as cuts and tunnels resembled rivers within canyons.

Elkton, Md., Oct. 2.—A terrific wind, rain and electrical storm passed over this section of Cecil county yesterday.

Laton Buckworth, 10 years old, son of Harry Buckworth, a farmer on the Mackall farm near here, was swept from his horse and drowned while attempting to ford Little Elk creek, which was swollen beyond its banks.

Salisbury, Md., Oct. 2.—Hubert Warren, a farmer living on the Belts farm, near here, was struck by lightning and killed yesterday. The bolt burned all the hair and clothing from his body. Much damage was done by lightning to telegraph and telephone poles and wires.

Frederick, Md., Oct. 2.—A windstorm, accompanied by hail and heavy rain, swept over the northern section of Frederick county yesterday, blowing over barns and other buildings and playing havoc with crops. The storm was about a mile wide and passed over Graceham, Coopers-town, Loys, Rocky Ridge and into Southern Pennsylvania.

Near Rocky Ridge hall fell as large as guinea eggs and could be scooped up with shovels. Many trees were uprooted.

Heavy rain fell throughout the Middletown Valley, putting an end to a serious drought.

MR. BRYAN AT FAIRFAX.

Interesting Addresses on Signs of the Times.

Accompanied by Mrs. Bryan, Secretary Bryan left Washington early yesterday afternoon for Fairfax, where he was to deliver an address on the opening day of the second annual fair of the Fairfax County Fair Association. Mr. Bryan entertained his auditors with one of the lectures which he had used frequently during his recent campaign.

While an admission fee of 15 cents was charged to the pavilion in which he spoke, Secretary Bryan did not receive any compensation for his address. He had accepted the invitation because the date chanced to be the twenty-ninth anniversary of his wedding, and he and Mrs. Bryan were to celebrate the occasion by a visit to his cousin, Mrs. John S. Barbour, of Fairfax.

During his address Mr. Bryan pointed to the fact that $5,000,000 is spent annually in Y. M. C. A. work, or more than twice as much as was spent in the last presidential campaign. The ratio between these expenditures, he said, is 8 to 1, and will soon be at least 16 to 1. This reference to the slogan of his first national campaign was greeted with a yell from one of his admirers in the days of 96.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan went to Fairfax on a private car, being escorted by R. Walton Moore and R. W. Woolley, serving as a Fairfax committee. Thomas R. Keith, president of the fair association, presided at the lecture and introduced Mr. Lee, who presented Mr. Bryan.

While the Secretary of State was the principal feature of the day, he was by no means the only attraction. There was the usual array of "fakers." As the crowd left the pavilion they were greeted with the challenge, "Ten dollars to any person who can ride Maud, the bucking mule." Across the midway flaming red posters announced the presence of "Zaza, have you seen her?" who was disporting her charms for "ten cents, or one dime."

Further on there were sheds sheltering sleek cattle fat pigs, beautifully plumed fowl, and championing horses. In fact, everything that goes to make an up-to-date county fair had its place upon the Fairfax grounds. The rain prevented the baseball games, which had been scheduled, and caused a postponement of the athletic field events.

The fair will continue today and tomorrow. This afternoon Henry C. Stuart, Democratic gubernatorial nominee, and Dr. Harvey W. Wiley are expected to deliver addresses. The award of prizes will also be made today. President Keith and the other officials announced gratification at the number of entries at the fair and the size of the attendance. Many Alexandrians were present.

The fair will close Friday with a ball game between attorneys of Fairfax and Alexandria city.

VOYAGE AROUND THE WORLD.

Yacht Niagara With Leiter Party Aboard Passes Down the River.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leiter, with their two children and a small party of friends, passed Alexandria yesterday afternoon on their chartered yacht, the Niagara, for a cruise around the world, which will require about a year to complete. The Niagara headed for Norfolk, where the party spent today while the vessel was being coaled. It will then take a direct course for Bermuda, and proceed from there to Southampton, England.

Mr. and Mrs. Leiter and their friends will spend the winter in the Mediterranean, and will celebrate Christmas in Rome. On leaving Europe the voyage will be continued to the Orient, and at the end of twelve months the Niagara will steam through the Panama Canal and point her prow homeward.

MYSTERY OF FIGHT IN AN AUTOMOBILE

Oelrichs Affair Causes Police to Seek Another Man

PRISONER RELEASED.

Trapped in Young Woman's Room—
She is Said to Have Demanded $5,000—Offered $400.

New York, Oct. 2.—Mystery surrounding a midnight automobile escapade with a girl which resulted in the arrest of Herman Oelrichs, Jr., scion of the Vanderbilts was expected to be cleared here today by revelation of the identity of a companion who, pretty Lucile Singleton says, grasped Oelrichs' arm as he stabbed her and thus wrecked their car.

After many hours investigation, during which the police sought proof that the central figure of the midnight joy rider was young Oelrichs, masquerading under the name of a former fellow collegian, D. M. Clagborn, of Tacoma, Wash., the young millionaire was trapped in Miss Singleton's apartment and arrested. He spent two hours in a cell at the Mulberry street station before his mother appeared and caused his release on $5,000 bond.

When Oelrichs is arraigned in Harlem Court, Miss Singleton is expected to appear and tell her story in full. Then the identity of the second man in the car is to be made known and his arrest is expected.

Alleged dickerings between Oelrichs and Miss Singleton as to compensation for the delay in identifying him as the joy rider and alleged stabber. In this connection, Detective Taylor, who was first sent out on the case has been suspended because of the report he turned in.

It was said today that Miss Singleton felt that $5,000 would not be too much to repay for her injuries and the notoriety she had attained as the result of the frolic. This, however, she says, was considered too much money even for an Oelrichs and $400 was his best offer. This information the girl imparted to Detectives Cassassa and McKenna.

Oelrichs has $30,000,000 in his own name.

ON A GRAVE CHARGE.

Alleged Capital Crime Against 10-Year-Old Girl.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 2.—The trial of Aubrey Baker, 21 years old, charged with a capital crime against Ava, the 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clarke, of Henrico county, was begun before Judge R. Carter Scott in Henrico Circuit Court, yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock.

The mother of the little girl was the first witness. She told how her daughter had come to her on August 28th, the day on which the alleged assault is alleged to have been committed, and, nearly dead with fright, had told her of Baker's alleged ill-treatment of her.

The child was the next witness called and she told of the alleged assault.

Dr. James Whitfield, city chemist, was called and gave testimony which was regarded as favorable to the defense.

Baker went on the stand in his own behalf. He said he knew nothing of the alleged attack, and had not been away from the Clark place the whole day on which the alleged assault is said to have taken place.

REVOLT AGAINST THE TARIFF BILL

Will Press Measure to Vote as Soon as Debate Will Permit.

TO STAND BY REPORT.

Leaders Think Bill Can be Sent to President This Week — Senators Reed to Abide by Caucus.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Under pressure from the leaders and the White House, the Senate Democrats, who were torn with revolt yesterday, have lined up for the conference report on the tariff bill. Senator Simmons called up the report when the Senate met today and will press it to a vote as quickly as possible will permit.

It is the hope of the Senate leaders that the conference report can be adopted and the bill sent to the White House for the signature of the President before the close of the week. When insurgency reared its head yesterday, there was much doubt as to how long it would take to force the measure to final enactment.

In the caucus of the Senate Democrats, which was held yesterday morning and again yesterday afternoon, lasting until well into the evening, it was decided by a vote of 33 to 6 to stand by the conference report. It was also agreed that the Senate should recede from the Clark cotton futures amendment and disapprove with the House substitute. It is expected, if there is no hitch, that the House will recede from its cotton futures substitute when it receives the conference report back from the Senate. This action will simplify the parliamentary situation, will drop the cotton futures question for future action, will adopt the conference report and pass the bill.

Whether any cotton futures legislation can be enacted as a place of separate lawmaking is generally regarded as doubtful.

The test of the caucus came last night on the question of recommending the bill to conference. The six senators who voted to recommend were O'Gorman, Hollis, Pomerene, Reed, Vandaman, and Hughes.

The Senators who were defeated however, will abide by the decision of the caucus. No bolt will occur. The Louisiana senators declined to vote in the caucus.

Senator Reed, who had been threatening to bolt, said he would abide by the caucus decision.

The discussion in the caucus was animated.

The special committee had applications from six engineers, each of whom visited Manassas, and were invited to submit propositions in detail. Regular Patrons of the Police Court to Serve Ninety Days

Among the prisoners in the dock of the Police Court this morning were three Alexandrians—John Ryan, Caremede Nalls and Melvin Page—and James Reeves, of Fauquier county, all charged with drunkenness and vagrancy. They were old offenders towards whom leniency has been extended to these many years.

Nalls was the first to face the court. He was charged with lying about the streets drunk and with leading an idle life. He is one of the trio who escaped from the station house early yesterday morning and had been arrested by Officer Roland. He was sentenced to serve ninety days in jail.

Melvin Page, another derelict, who it seems, has no settled abode and who spends much of his time in jail or the workhouse, and who requested Officer Roland to have him "sent up" for ten days, as he had been on another occasion, was given ninety days.

Reeves, who has been giving the police no little trouble, was next brought in. He is a degenerate specimen of humanity, attired in rags. Realizing the fate of the couple who had preceded him, he attempted to play a part by starting to fall in a feigned swoon. His performance had no effect upon the court, however, and he was immediately placed upon his feet by Officer Ferguson and resumed his normal condition instantly. He was told to fall in with the others for a ninety-days' term.

Ryan, was the last of the quartette conducted into court. The accused was charged with the chronic offenses of drunkenness and idleness. He promised, if liberated, to leave Alexandria and remain away. He was told if he could get some responsible citizen to see him out of town and enter into bond to keep him away, he would be allowed to depart, and was given until noon to procure a bondman. Should he fail, he, too, will be sent to jail for ninety days, subject to service upon the roads. He requested several bystanders to go his security, but they all declined.

It was suggested in the Gazette several weeks ago that a number of worthless men are maintained in the jail and workhouse during several months each year, and that the time had come when more drastic measures should be used towards people who intentionally make themselves stragglers in the march of life.

A well known merchant of this city later appeared at the station house and became responsible for Ryan's immediate extradition, guaranteeing that he would see that he remains away. He furnished the money necessary to place him beyond the confines of the Old Dominion. Bryan was placed in charge of Officer Kerns with the understanding that should the prisoner return to Alexandria at any time he will be picked up and sent on the roads without any further ceremony. Ryan bade as many of his friends goodbye as were near him and left with the assurance that Alexandria will see his face no more.

SHRINERS MEET.

A full meeting of the committees having in charge the arrangements for the visit of Acca Temple was held last night in the Elks' Home when final details were perfected. The visiting nobles will reach here at 2:30 o'clock of Saturday and it is hoped that all members of the Shrine who have automobiles will be on hand at the Union Station to bring the visitors to the center of the city.

NEGRO WOMEN FIGHT.

One of the Participants Attacks Officer and Struck With Baton. Sadie Thomas, colored, who was struck on the head by one of her companions or fell against a doorstep last Saturday night while helplessly drunk on South Alfred street, was on the warpath again last night.

She became involved in a fight with Lizzie Welch, colored. Both women were in a drunken condition in the northwestern section of the city. When Officer Kern took charge of the couple the Thomas woman resisted and fought him. He was finally forced to use his stick upon her. The prisoner cursed the officer all the way to the station house and was disorderly some time after having been locked up.

Her case was continued until four o'clock this afternoon when the investigation of her adventures Saturday night will be made by the Police Court.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

CANDIDATE FOR SPEAKER.

C. J. Meetze of Manassas, Prince William County, anxious to wield Gavel.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 2.—C. J. Meetze of Manassas is a candidate for speaker of the next House of Delegates, and is soliciting votes by a general circulation among members of a presentation of his face. This novel method of campaigning is said to be unique in Virginia and is prosecuted by Mr. Meetze in the following manner:

A large number of post cards have been prepared with great care by the member from Manassas, which post-cards are illuminated on the reverse side by a three-quarter picture of the prospective speaker. In the portrait great care was had as to pose and poise. Mr. Meetze is seen seated at a table, facing the photographer, and strongly gripping in his strong right hand a croquet mallet, which does service for a Gavel.

In the picture the hair of the victim is nicely combed and parted on the left side. The eyes are serious, the mouth firm; the nostrils dilated. Mr. Meetze is in the very act of calling an imaginary "house" to order by pounding with uplifted croquet mallet upon the top of a wicker table.

POLICEMAN KILLS NEGRO.

Man Was Endeavoring to Escape After His Arrest.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 2.—In attempting to escape from Patrolman Stokes, who had him under arrest as an alleged chicken thief, a negro was shot and almost instantly killed Sunday morning shortly after 12 o'clock. His body is in the morgue awaiting identification. It has been viewed by the coroner.

With a woman, who was under the influence of whiskey, the negro was found in the rear of Mr. Britt's home, on 35th street between the old Lambert Point road and Kellam Avenue by Patrolman Stokes. As Mr. Britt's chicken coop was a few feet away the officer placed the pair under arrest and was walking toward a telephone box when the man ran through a thicket. He was called on to halt by the policeman, but continued his flight and was fired on three times. As he emerged from the brush on the other side of the road he ran into Patrolman Shumadine, who was going to the aid of Stokes, and that officer also opened fire on the fugitive, who was found on the edge of the road with a bullet wound in his body. The negro was sent to the city jail and died in twenty minutes.

While the woman at first, said the man was Charlie Langley, an old offender, she afterwards denied this.

Fayette, Miss.—Judge Jefferson Truly, a prominent attorney, admitted that he led the mob that lynched two negroes at Harrison, Miss., on Sunday.

STORM IN RICHMOND.

Terrific Hail, Wind and Rain Yesterday—Dwellings Flooded.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 2.—Even the "oldest inhabitants" cannot recall anything like the storm which visited Highland Park, Ginter Park, Barton Heights and vicinity about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. A portion of Highland Park caught the full fury of the storm.

Early in the evening there were signs of an impending storm in the northwest, but it was believed to be far away.

The storm was accompanied by vivid lightning thunder and a terrific wind, rain and hail. The devastating effects are to be seen at every point.

In Highland Park the wreckage included housetops, chimneys, ventilators, windows, trees, flower beds, streets, and in fact almost everything out of doors.

In the pretty town thousands of English sparrows are lying dead, victims of the terrific hail. They are all over the park, wherever there are trees are found dead birds by the score on the ground underneath.

The storm came from the northwest and broke with sudden fury about 2 o'clock. The rain came in torrents, and with the added force of the wind it succeeded in beating into every house. Front and back halls were flooded and some roofs appeared as if made of paper. The water beat in at every angle. There was household scurrying to prevent damage to furniture and wearing apparel.

MARRIED AGAIN.

Divorced Woman Becomes Wife of a Presbyterian Minister.

Fredericksburg, Va., Oct. 2.—Announcement has just been received here of the marriage in Fort Worth, Texas, last Friday night of a handsome young Virginia woman to a Presbyterian minister after she had obtained a divorce from her first husband, whom she married when she was 18 years old. The young woman and her first husband lived in Atlanta.

The minister has been summoned before his church board because of the affair.

The Atlantians who figured in the case are Mr. and Mrs. William Hall Yeaton, and the minister is the Rev. Lloyd B. Field. Mr. Yeaton is credited man of the International Agricultural Corporation, and has an apartment at 17 West Cain Street, Atlanta.

Mrs. Yeaton, (now Mrs. Field), was formerly Miss Lillian Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. L. Phillips, of Warsaw, Richmond county, Va. Mr. and Mrs. Yeaton lived together in Atlanta from September, 1911, to April, 1913.

The Rev. Mr. Field, who formerly was pastor of several small Presbyterian churches in and near Macon, Ga., was early last fall called to the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at Warren, Ark. A year before he left Macon he visited Atlanta and a mutual friend introduced him to Mrs. Yeaton at a soda fountain.

INJUNCTION DENIED.

Drys Lose Fight to Suppress Liquor at State Fair—Note, Appeal.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 2.—Judge R. Carter Scott, of Henrico Circuit Court, yesterday declined to grant an injunction restraining the State Fair Association from selling liquor at the fair next week on the ground that it was a nuisance. The forces opposed to the sale of liquor at the fair announced their determination to carry out the matter to the Supreme Court immediately.

Attorney W. A. Wilkey, on behalf of the "drys" noted an appeal to the Supreme Court and requested that the papers in the case be returned early enough to permit him to present the matter to the higher court today, on account of the fact that Judge Keith, will be out of the city tomorrow.

In handing down his decision Judge Scott stated that the granting of the injunction was without his jurisdiction; that as far as the fair grounds being a suitable place was concerned, he had already decided that it was, and that the officers of the State Fair Association were proper parties to engage in the sale of liquor, and that he was looking at the case from the standpoint of a judge and not as a private citizen.

WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE.

Attempt on Her Policeman Husband's Life Futile.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 2.—Sick and melancholy, Mrs. Thos. Lamb, of Dunmore, yesterday morning attempted to kill her husband by shooting. She killed herself. Lamb is a policeman, and after he had retired from his night's duty she got his revolver. He was slightly wounded, and leaped after the woman as she fired a shot into her own head.

SHE SWALLOWED LOCKET.

Bristol Girl Nearly Chokes to Death Before Being Relieved.

Bristol, Va., Oct. 2.—Miss Lula Thomas, aged 16, cashier in a Bristol Restaurant, yesterday afternoon swallowed a metal locket as large in diameter as a half dollar. It lodged in her throat and she nearly choked to death before surgeons could relieve. The X-ray was used to locate the locket, and it was forced from the breathing passage into her stomach. The metal being only imitation gold, it is feared further trouble may result.

Passaic.—John Campman, twenty, and brother, Cornelius, nineteen, were indicted for murder, having killed a chicken thief.

Cannon Nominated.

Richmond, Oct. 2.—James E. Cannon, a former member of the City Council and a well known attorney, was nominated Tuesday night for the State Senate by the City Democratic Committee, taking the position as party nominee held at the time of his death by Colonel John S. Harwood. By a vote of 19 to 12 the committee rejected a plan to legal a special primary. Samuel L. Kelly was the only other nominee when the roll was called, and the final vote stood: Cannon, 16; Kelley, 15. Geo. T. Davis remaining outside of the room and refusing to vote.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS TONIGHT.

The regular monthly meeting of the City School Board will be held tonight, and as was announced at the meeting in September, resolutions will be introduced which, if adopted, will practically exclude all children of non-residents except such as pay tuition fee which will be fixed by the board.

Resolutions prescribing these rates will also be introduced.

It is alleged that some children whose parents reside outside of Alexandria are enjoying the benefits of our public schools. They have, it is claimed, obtained permits in various ways. Some have relatives in Alexandria to appear as guardians and others are children of persons who own real estate in Alexandria and obtain licenses for conducting business in this city. Some members of the board are convinced that the formulation of the rule which allows the children of such persons to enter our public schools was an unwise procedure, and the resolutions which will be introduced tonight resent that rule.

As is known, the school board was compelled to elect an additional teacher to meet the demands upon the system. The schools during late years have been overcrowded, and as to the expense of maintaining the public instruction in Alexandria is growing all the time, some of the trustees think the time has come when they should look after the interests of only such children as are entitled to enter the schools.

VITAL STATISTICS

Record for Twelve Months Tabulated
For Annual Report of State Board of Health.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 2.—(Special.) As part of its report for the fiscal year ending yesterday, the State Board of Health will soon forward to Governor Mann the first twelve months' vital statistics ever compiled in Virginia in accordance with the standard set by the United States Census.

Operating under the law passed by the General Assembly in 1912, the Board began the collection of birth and death records in July, 1912 and has now completed and filed the records for fourteen months, twelve of which have been tabulated.

Prior to 1898, it is pointed out, births and deaths were roughly reported by commissioners of revenue as a part of their annual returns to the auditor. The reports, which were recently transferred by the Auditor to the State Library, are on long folios and are not accompanied by medical statistics as to the cause of death. Incomplete as these reports are, they furnish the only records from 1898 to 1908. From 1908 to 1912 the State has no records of any sort relating to births and deaths, beyond the certificates kept in a few of the cities and in one or two counties.

While the Board has not yet given out the detailed statement of the number of births and deaths from preventable causes, it is understood that the showing for the year is regarded as most satisfactory and that health officers are encouraged to believe that within another 12 months at least 90 per cent. of all vital statistics will be duly filed for safe keeping in the archives of the State.

It is announced that the most striking fact disclosed by the tables prepared for its annual report to the Board, is the marked difference between the registration in the counties and in the cities. In rural Virginia, the return of births, while not complete, is relatively full, but in the cities hundreds of births, among the colored population are not reported. On the other hand, the death certificates forwarded by city health officers include practically every death that occurs.

"The statistics to be included in our report," said an officer of the Board today, "will not of course be given out until they have been presented to the Governor. As soon as the report is released for publication, however, we expect its statistics will be of extreme interest to the public. Some of the statistics are alarming in the extreme and show a heavy mortality from diseases that we do not think had assumed such proportions. But the mortality rate for some other communicable disease is most encouraging."

"Too much praise cannot be given the local registrars of births and deaths, for without their co-operation and enthusiastic support we could not have gathered the thousands of certificates now on file. The assistant registrar of vital statistics, Dr. W. A. Plecker, has also done most excellent service in directing the work."

DEATH OF HARRY LIBBY.

Hampton, Va., Oct. 2.—Postmaster Harry Libby, of Hampton, died at 12:10 o'clock Tuesday morning after a long illness. He was seventy-two years old. He suffered a stroke of paralysis several months ago, and for the past three weeks had been rolled about in a chair. His condition became critical several days ago and he was unconscious most of the time.

After making a financial success in life, Mr. Libby drifted into politics. He was elected to Congress years ago, and almost ever since he had been identified with Republican politics in this section. He had been postmaster for many years, and was well-known.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The body of Robert L. Tidale, a wealthy real estate broker, of Cape Girardeau, Mo., was found hanging from a large oak tree just east of Chaffee Mo., yesterday. It is believed Mr. Tidale was murdered for the purpose of robbery, and his body suspended from the branch of the tree after his death.

The strongest earthquake shock ever recorded at Panama shook the isthmus from Panama to Colon last night, throwing the inhabitants of this and other cities into panic, and rocking buildings until they almost fell. The fear that the violent tremor had displaced or destroyed the mechanism of the great locks in the Panama Canal caused consternation in the ranks of the canal workers, and inspectors were hurried out to examine the locks. Col. Sibert, in person, led the inspection at Gatun, but the extent of the damage, if any, cannot be ascertained as yet. Culebra reports a heavy shock, and examination of the canal locks are also in progress there.

Blows dealt Carl G. Holst, of Paxton, Ill., an insane patient 78 years old, so that he suffered six broken ribs and later died, were the method employed to keep him in bed at the Kankakee State Hospital for the Insane, according to a confession made by William Wolfe, a former hospital attendant. Wolfe is under arrest charged with murder. He implicated John Mahan, a hospital employee, who also was arrested, and another former employee who has not been apprehended.

The storm of Tuesday night and yesterday were very severe in portions of Pennsylvania. Considerable damage was done by floods, wind, hail and lightning.

The Very Rev. Herbert Hensley-Jones, dean of Durham, caused a sensation at the Church of England Congress at Southampton last night by a speech, in which he openly approved divorce.

Danger of serious effects from the operation to which United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge submitted last Friday at Nahant, Mass., for the removal of a gastric ulcer, has passed.

Alternately raving like a maniac, and weeping like a child, Thomas Foshesky, the miner entombed in the Continental mine at Centralia, Pa., last night begged the men who were working to rescue him to hasten their work. His condition became so bad at one time that three of his children were taken into the mine and permitted to talk to him. After they left he cried several minutes and then began again his shrieks for help.
